How to get your plants ready for your vacation

BY MARSHALL DUNLAP

SILK HOPE, N.C. — When you're going to be away for a week or more this summer, chances are you're going to go on vacation. If you know you are going to be away for a week or more this summer, chances are you're going on vacation.

1. Choose survivor plants.

2. Use large containers.

3. Avoid porous pots.

4. Wait until the last minute to move your plants to their vacay pots.

5. Use Terra-cotta pots and hanging baskets.

6. Watch the weather forecast.

7. Check the garden show "You Bet Your Garden" to find out about drought-tolerant plants.

8. Consider using a hydroponic system.

9. Use a soil mix that is rich in organic matter.

10. Keep your plants watered and fed while you're away.
